Ullico Invests in Loring Park Apartments

Constructed by 100 Percent Union Labor

“They are wrapping up the deep foundations,” says Tim Clark, senior project manager for Adolfson & Peterson Construction, “and will be starting on the concrete work and the great beams. A lot of the underground utilities are in place. The masonry work will begin in late spring.”

Construction of the Loring Park Apartments in Minneapolis is “progressing nicely.” The tower is funded in part by the Union Labor Life Insurance Company (Ullico), which invested $20 million into the project. The 36-story luxury apartment tower will feature 354 upscale rental condos, on-site parking and retail space. Residents will also have access to 41,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor amenities. The tower is being constructed by 100 percent union labor. Completion date is for fall 2014.

Carry Your Union Card

All BAC members should be able to present their Building Trades card and their International Union membership card when working on a jobsite. While our business representatives try to know everyone, it’s not always possible to remember every face, especially when members are moving around from area to area. This is not just a BAC request and applies to everyone in the Building Trades union. Be ready. Be proud. Carry your cards.

Jurisdiction of BAC Local 1 MN/ND

It is no secret that some Local 1 members work outside of its territorial jurisdiction. Construction workers often move around the country (or world) to perform their work. If you work outside of Local 1’s territory, then it is important that you protect your wages and fringe benefits. When you are assigned to work outside the territory, you should ask Local 1 whether there is a reciprocity arrangement that will allow for your fringe benefits earned outside of Local 1’s territory to be transferred back to the Local 1 Fringe Benefit Funds.

Local 1 is your designated bargaining representative. If your employer does not honor that relationship and negotiates directly with you about work outside of the territorial jurisdiction, then your employer is in violation of the collective bargaining agreement. Your employer must seek approval from Local 1 before sending you outside of the territorial jurisdiction. This is to protect you with receiving appropriate wages and benefits. If you work outside of the territorial jurisdiction before Local 1 approves it, then you are in violation by working “non-union.” The Local 1 Fringe Benefit Funds assert that separate side agreements with Fund participants are unenforceable with respect to avoiding fringe benefit payment.

Results from the Wage Allocation Meeting on Jan. 5, 2013

The BAC Local 1 MN/ND held a Local wide wage allocation meeting on Saturday, Jan. 5, 2013. The discussion points were laid out in the President’s Article in the December newsletter. The results of the meeting are as follows:

1. The membership voted to increase contributions to the International Union Pension Fund (IPF) using the Alternative Funding Schedule. This was Choice #1 from the December newsletter. This is a 10-year funding schedule which calls for a 4 percent increase to contributions over the next four years and a 6 percent increase the following five years. With this funding in place the accrual rates and the full retirement age will remain unchanged.

2. The projections for the BAC Local 1 Defined Benefit Pension Plan showed the fund slipping into the “Yellow Zone” in four years if changes were not made. The trustees instituted several changes for the fund going forward. These changes were also outlined in the December newsletter which was mailed to all participants. The membership voted at the January 5 meeting to increase the funding of the local defined benefit pension $.25 per year over the next three years. With the increased contributions, the goal of keeping the current accrual rates as they are is achievable; the trustees will review the actuarial results with the consultants each year and continue to report on the health of the fund to the membership. With more contributions and an improving market, the trustees will be better suited to meet that goal on a year by year basis.

3. The BAC MN/ND Health Fund has undergone many changes in the last few years, with more changes on the horizon. The members voted to increase contributions $.25 per hour to the Health Fund on May 1, 2013. Currently, contributions are $.50 per hour and will increase to $.65 per hour. Please look at the “Changes for the Health Fund” article in this issue for the issues facing our current program.

4. The members voted to increase contributions to the retirees prefin ding portion of the Health Fund contribution. Currently, there is $1.60 per hour out of the $6.40 per hour that goes into the health fund that is set aside to help offset the costs of retiree healthcare premiums (known as the prefin ding program). This includes the subsidy, in the form of an HRA contribution, to the Medicare retirees. The contribution for this benefit will increase $.10 to $.11 per hour on May 1, 2013. Again, this is being done to maintain the current level of benefits.

5. The International Masonry Institute (IMI) contributions will be 1 percent of the total negotiated wage package beginning May 1, 2013. This is being done to remain in compliance with the resolution from the 2010 IU Convention.

Are You Interested in Serving Your Union?

Mike Cook, President of BAC Local 1 MN/ND, is collecting names of members who are interested in stepping up and serving their local union. Are you interested in being a business representative or a trustee on a Health Fund, Vacation Fund or any of our Pension Funds? Perhaps you would like to volunteer for Habitat for Humanity, Homes for Our Troops or on some type of memorial project. We are always in need of having members contribute to these good causes. Please send in a letter with your contact information to the union office and address it to Mike Cook’s attention. Resumes are not necessary, but they are certainly helpful to have when we are trying to fill some of these positions. Not all positions listed have openings at this time, but by putting together a database we will have a list of interested members whenever the need arises.
A New Era for Health Care

Health care is changing for us at an alarmingly fast rate. Not only are we seeing rapid changes on a national scale, but many of those changes have forced the trustees to make changes in our own Health Plan.

Medicare Retirees

During 2012, the Health Fund trustees moved all of our Medicare eligible members and families off our self funded plan and into the Medicare supplement open market. Please note that this wasn’t done to “Get rid of the retirees.” We made this change to lower the cost of insurance for our Medicare eligible members and families. The plans on the open market have bigger pools of healthier participants and are able to reap the benefits of government subsidies that could not be incorporated with our plan. While we know that for many making the change was an inconvenience, the end result was a savings in premium. We had many experiences reported over the last year regarding the change. Some were not happy with any change at all, but most understood the need for change. Others were not happy with the process. While we apologize for any inconvenience, we hope that everyone is satisfied with the final result. I have not received reports from anyone saying that their premiums are now higher. I have not had any reports of someone who did not get properly enrolled. Please remember, that was the final goal, to lower premiums and save members money. We will continue to move members into the open market for their insurance supplement needs as our members turn 65 and/or become Medicare eligible.

Working Members and pre-Medicare Retirees

Health care cost trends continue to skyrocket. Premiums for our pre-Medicare retirees have gone up dramatically in 2013. The trustees are working diligently to try and suppress the escalating costs. We are looking at changes to our plan for these participants. Some of the new laws for health care that will take effect Jan. 1, 2014, will severely impact the costs to our plan. Among the changes are: No cost preventive care and unlimited life time maximums. Now at first glance, we can all agree that these are good things, but somehow we have to pay for these changes. These good changes come with a high price tag. And again, like the Medicare supplement program, our plan can’t benefit like plans in the open market that are able to use government subsidies that will become available on the new “Health Exchange”.

To me, it’s quite simple, we have to change. At our Local wide meeting on Jan. 5, 2013, we discussed some of the possible changes. There were members that agreed that we have to look at some other ways to deliver our health care and there were some that wanted no change to our plan. As the president of the local union and the chairman of the Health Fund, I have to look at ideas that will benefit all of our members. Not just a few. Not just the members that are most intensively employed, but all of the members. I have to find solutions that benefit everyone.

It’s time that we look at the “composite rate” where everyone pays the same rate regardless if they are married or have children. It’s time to look at offering coverage to suit the needs of individuals. A healthy 25 year old doesn’t need the same coverage as a 55 year old. When a husband and wife are both working, they both shouldn’t have to pay for insurance to cover each other. When a member is more intensively employed, they should be able to capture all of those hours and save them for a later date. When a member works very little, we should have a plan that can give them some basic coverage that they can afford. We are looking at all of these changes.

The open market for health care gives us many more possibilities to offer our members. We can offer a wide range of selections, from basic coverage to great coverage. We can find plans that will give us more discounts locally. There may be other plans that will be more suited to our members that have moved out of the area. Many members retire early and move to warmer climates. For these members our plans have to adapt to the area in which they live. When members live out of the network, this drives costs up for everyone. We are searching for better insurance for our members that are in this category.

Please look for more correspondence regarding this issue. Come to the Health Fair and stop by our booth. Come to local union and chapter meetings. And, watch your mail for upcoming changes. The Federal and State laws regarding health care are changing constantly. We are doing our best to keep up with these changes and deliver to the members the best health care we can.

Pay Checks Stubs and Pay Roll Deductions

If you are ever uncertain of what you are reading on your check stub, don’t be afraid to ask questions. You have the right to have your employer explain deductions. We can also help answer questions at the union office. We will gladly look into these issues and straighten out any problems regarding your payroll.

When You Report Your “Gillette” Injury May Affect your Workers’ Compensation Benefits

Because of the repetitive and strenuous nature of work that union construction workers do, they often have “wearing out injuries” also known as Gillette injuries, such as degenerative changes in the shoulders, elbows, hands, low back and neck. The workers’ compensation law accepts these as work-related injuries in the same way it would accept injuries suffered from a fall or from lifting a very heavy object.

In 2012, the requirement of telling your contractor about your “wearing out injury” was changed. You are required to give notice or tell your contractor about your “wearing out injury” within six months or you may be completely prevented from making a claim for workers’ compensation benefits.

Previously, the six month period began to run only after a physician wrote in a medical note stating that the wearing out condition was work-related. The law was changed to require notice within six months of a significant event related to the “wearing out injury” such as surgery or a significant loss of time. This new “notice” requirement poses a very serious threat to union construction workers suffering these types of work injuries. To be safe, tell your contractor you have a work-related injury whenever you lose more than two weeks of time or undergo significant medical care for this type of injury. If you do “give notice,” tell a co-worker that you did this because sometimes management “can’t remember” that you told them about your work injury.

Anderson Is Denied Workers’ Compensation Benefits

Did Not Provide Employer with Timely Notice of Gillette Injury

In the case (Karl L.) Anderson vs Frontier Communications a decision was made by the Minnesota Supreme Court on Aug. 10, 2012. This case addressed the issue of when a Minnesota worker is required to report to his employer an injury that does not happen at one specific moment, but rather is a wear and tear injury that occurs over the course of time, called a Gillette injury. When this injury actually occurs is the difficult part of determining when the 180 day reporting period begins to run.

In the Anderson case the Supreme Court stated that a worker that has experienced a Gillette injury must report this to his or her employer within 180 days after “it becomes reasonably apparent to the employee that the injury has resulted in, or is likely to cause, a compensable disability”. Generally, a conversation with a physician about the specific work activities an injured worker performs on a day-to-day basis and a doctor’s comment that the injured worker’s work activities probably or likely caused the current medical condition would be sufficient to provide enough information to start the clock ticking on the 180 days.

Anderson failed to notify his employer of his injury in a timely fashion resulting in denied workers’ compensation benefits.

If you have any questions, please contact BAC Local 1 office at 612-379-2966 and we can refer you to workers’ compensation attorneys.

January Pension Payments

As some retirees experienced, the January 2013 pension payments were deposited in bank accounts later than usual. This was for two reasons. First, the Pension Fund office cannot process pension payments prior to January 1. Since January 1 is a banking holiday, January payments will always be delayed until January 2 or January 3. The second reason for the delay was due to a processing error at Zenith. The error has been fixed. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

IMI Welcomes Mark Swanson as the New Director

Busy Year Ahead for Minnesota Native

IMI has several roles, but the bottom line is creating more BAC Local 1 MN/ND job opportunities. IMI delivers skilled training to our members and professional education to the design community as well as building owners. It educates the entire building team demonstrating that masonry provides the best solution for a project, especially when combined with skilled union craftsmen.

IMI welcomes Mark Swanson, AIA, LEED AP BD+C, NCARB as the new Director of Industry Development and Technical Services in the Minnesota area office. Swanson, who grew up in Minneapolis, worked for the Architectural Alliance, Ryan Companies US, Inc. and OPUS in Minneapolis, and MulvannyG2 Architecture in Washington, DC. He has a diverse background in all phases of architecture and construction as well as Building Information Modeling (BIM) and is a welcome addition to team IMI.

Swanson has hit the ground running and has been involved in many programs. He plans on taking full advantage of the BAC training center in St. Paul for a series of “Masonry Days” in 2013. “I believe that educating the design professional is critical to building an understanding and appreciation for what BAC skilled craftworkers bring to a building project and vice versa,” says Swanson. He has been assisting Dave Mensing with the U of M architecture student class at the training center. “These future architects will gain an understanding and knowledge of masonry that will benefit the industry for years to come,” Swanson said.

In January, Pat Conway, AIA, the Wisconsin area director along with Terry Hays, the west regional training director, assisted Swanson with a class on rain screen wall concepts and installation procedures to a local contractor who will be installing the system on a project in St. Paul. IMI’s Indiana-Kentucky Director, Dave Collins, CSI, was at the St. Paul training center the first week of February conducting a Grouting & Reinforced Masonry Certification with Swanson for journeymen and apprentices. IMI will be conducting Supervisor Certification Program (SCP) Foreman Training – Level 2 in late February at the training center.

The Minnesota Masonry Coalition is up and running and Swanson is following up with structural firms visited last year. He is also targeting new structural firms with IMI Director of Engineering Diane Throop, PE, and Sam Rubenzer, P.E., FORSE consulting. The goal this year is implementing a quick response team that can assist these firms in designing their projects with structural masonry.

The Vikings stadium is at the forefront for local projects. A team from IMI including Swanson is heading to Dallas to meet with HKS and Thornton-Tomasetti in February. He has been reaching out to the locally selected architectural and structural firms as well.

Swanson will also be speaking at the Construction Specifications Institute (CSI) North Central Conference in Minneapolis this May and will be advocating craftworker certification language in specifications.

He has also been reaching out to the Bismarck Public School district providing booklets on why masonry for schools is the best choice. “I am excited in finding ways to help out Randy Carlson as well as Mike Ganz in the outstate areas,” he says.

To learn more about the International Masonry Institute, visit www.imiweb.org or contact Mark Swanson at mswanson@imiweb.org.

Please notify us if you know of any member that has passed away. It is always our intention to send flowers or a memorial to the funerals of BAC Local 1 MN/ND members. However, we are not always informed until after the funeral. The Local also has to send out applications for death benefits to the family. Once the local union is notified we pass the information to Zenith American Solutions and to the international union. They in turn will process any other pension, health or death benefits that the member might have. Your help is appreciated. Please keep your beneficiary information up-to-date. Incomplete or missing information makes the process harder during an already tough time for the family.

Our Issues

By Shar Knutson, President of the Minnesota AFL-CIO

An Agenda for Dignity & Fairness

In 2011 and 2012, bill after bill was introduced to curtail the rights of working Minnesotans. It seemed like the Legislature had it out for us. Well, in January, that all changed. The new majorities that Minnesotans elected to the state House and Senate took office. These are lawmakers who care about and will be strong advocates for middle class families. That's why the Minnesota AFL-CIO is presenting a few ways that lawmakers can demonstrate that commitment while protecting and growing the middle class. We're calling it the Agenda for Middle Class Dignity & Fairness. The four bills that make up the agenda are:

Minimum Wage Act
• Raises the minimum wage to $10.55
•Indexes the minimum wage to inflation each year thereafter
• Preserves Minnesota’s prohibition on wage penalties for tipped employees

Employer Lockout Accountability Act
• Provides unemployment benefits to workers for the lockout’s duration
• Adds a penalty to an employer’s unemployment tax bill if they lockout employees

Worker Freedom Act
• Protects privacy by giving employees the freedom to walk away from employer speeches aimed at changing their vote, other political actions, or religious beliefs and practices
• Bars employers from firing or disciplining workers who choose not to attend mandatory indoctrination meetings
• Protects whistleblowers who report such coerced meetings

Credit Privacy in Employment Act
• Bans credit checks for employment decisions related to hiring, termination, promotion, demotion, discipline, compensation or other terms and condition of employment
• Bars employers from requesting the job applicant’s or employee’s credit history for these purposes
• Bars employers from refusing to hire an applicant who refuses to authorize the credit report, where the report is not required by state or federal law
• Information if it is required by state or federal law for employment purposes with written authorization from the employee or applicant

This new Legislature has an opportunity to chart a new course and produce positive change for middle class families. We hope they seize the opportunity.
